BUDAPEST LAUGH AND LEARN - PROGRAM GUIDE - DIGITAL VERSION

THE VERY OFFICIAL PROGRAM

OUR FABULOUS PLATINUM
SPONSOR

Morgan Stanley

Morgan Stanley has been a strong supporter of Toastmasters for many years. They formed the second Toastmasters club in Hungary in 2010 and were the first to come on board to help fund the Budapest Laugh and Learn conference. We are proud to have them as our main sponsor.

Welcome to Budapest!
Üdvözljük Budapesten!

What a beautiful city for the Fall 2013
District 59 Toastmasters Conference!

The conference organizers have worked diligently for months to bring you the best of Budapest and the best of District 59. The conference theme “Laugh and Learn” has inspired everyone – attendees, contestants, workshop presenters, and volunteers. I am grateful for the tremendous work they have done to bring this conference to life.

This is the last fall conference for District 59 - Continental Europe as a whole, before it splits into two districts. So let's enjoy this special event with almost 400 participants from all corners of Europe and beyond. People are here from Finland to Portugal and from Poland to France. I am also pleased to welcome Toastmaster friends from Russia, Ireland, United Kingdom, Italy, Latvia Lithuania, Romania, and Ukraine. Everything is ready for a great conference. So get ready to laugh – and learn!

After all, as Toastmasters, that's what we do best!

Cheers,
João de Mendonça
District 59 Governor 2013-2014

Welcome to the District Conference.

Wow! I've been waiting three years to write this intro. We were first asked in 2010 if we might want to host a District Conference. Some of us in the Budapest Toastmasters Club were gung-ho for it. Thank God the cooler heads in the club prevailed in persuading us that we weren't ready.

Today everything is different. We have gone from two clubs to seven, in Budapest and beyond. We have been to District conferences and hosted one Division and a few Area conferences. We can now draw on a wealth of talent not only from Budapest but as far afield as Bratislava.

In other words, we are totally ready for this! The next 3 days will be a demonstration of clockwork precision organization.

At least that's what we have hypnotized ourselves into believing over the past six months. So let me remind you, and ourselves, that the theme of this conference is "Laugh and Learn". 😊

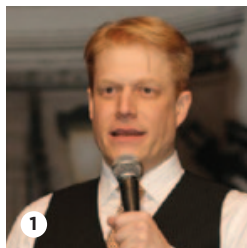

This theme will hold absolutely true!
You will laugh. The competitors will see to that. You will learn. The workshop holders won't let you down. You will eat and dance and maybe even sing. I know I will!

No matter what happens, we are dedicated to helping you get the most out of this weekend. Yes, we lost four in the process, including me temporarily, but we persevered. So, to everyone who helped us, thank you. Now go ahead and read the rest of this programme to find out exactly what we have in store for you at Laugh and Learn in Budapest.

FRIDAY
WORKSHOPS

Florian Mueck
Kill the meeting - do workshops!

Aren't you bored of meetings? Aren't you tired of monologue following monologue following monologue? Aren't you fed up with losing your valuable time?

In this interactive workshop we'll develop out-of-the-box ideas on how to spice up your meetings with workshop elements. We'll focus on two aspects: workshop leader and workshop format.

Moderation, time management, energy, structure, creativity, group work - we'll cover a wide range of workshop success factors.

Are you ready to kill the meeting? Then this is your workshop!

Florian Mueck - from Germany, based in Barcelona - worked as a consultant and business development manager for almost a decade at the global advisory firm KPMG.

Since Florian joined a chapter of Toastmasters International in Barcelona in 2005, public speaking has become his passion. In 2009, he turned his passion into a successful profession under the FLORIAN MUECK brand.

A collaborator of IESE Business School Barcelona and author of "The Seven Minute Star" and "PlusPlus", Florian offers charismatic communication seminars, presentation coaching, keynote speeches, and event moderation in English, German, and Spanish, mainly to international brands like Deutsche Bank, Accor Hotels, or Softonic.

Eight things presenters can learn from actors

Acting isn't the same as public speaking, but have you ever thought about the areas where they overlap? There are probably more than you realize! Well-trained actors receive extensive instruction in key skill areas that are most relevant to speakers. We should all be aware of vital skills that we as speakers can learn from people trained in the dramatic arts. As an amateur actor since the age of 13, and after numerous stage productions and extensive training, I've been able to successfully apply much of my knowledge of acting to my speeches in Toastmasters. In this workshop I will share with you what I've learned from my experience in the theatre, and encourage you to incorporate new practices in your own speeches and presentations.

Steven D. Nelson is a professional corporate trainer and speech coach based in Budapest, Hungary. He specializes in workshops and seminars that help participants boost their communication and interpersonal skills. Steven believes that succeeding in the job market of the future depends in large part on how well we are able to develop the skills practiced in Toastmasters. His mission is to make everyone he works with a better communicator and presenter. Steven is the current Hungarian-language speech champion in Area D04, a charter member of Morgan Stanley Toastmasters Budapest, and speaking in front of an audience is his favorite thing in the world. His email address is steven@communicativecoach.com.

THE SUPER INCREDIBLE
SATURDAY

11:00 ROOM 2 (WHITE ROOM)

Klaus Roth
The body speaks - but in which language?

The importance of gesturing and the sound of your voice are mostly underrated. We tend to be word-focused.

This workshop will enforce your perception as to how people interact non-verbally. This seminar will increase your awareness as to how human beings interact without using words.

Everyone uses body language. Everyone is perfect in it because we start as a baby. But we are not aware of it. This workshop will sharpen your perception of what is happening among people.

I will bring to consciousness that words are sometimes of little importance in relation to the message delivered by your body. I will point out the different channels we use for interaction. Gestures, facial expressions, stance, posture, position in group, etc. I will speak about the influences from different cultural backgrounds. Body language is ruled by the subconscious. So it is out of the control of our thoughts. The potential of its influence is small. But a change is possible. I will show how slight changes generate great impact.

After finishing studies in economics I started my first company: Wholesale and retail sale of office furniture. Now I am the owner of a theatre for juvenile audiences. (www.dastheaterkoeln.de).

Toastmasters became part of my life in 2003. My focus now is to found my third TM club. I was rewarded with the "Outstanding Toastmaster" award in Nov 2012 for organizing the D59 Fall Conference in Bonn.

Christian Block
Creating your own humor for your speeches

Many speakers quarrel with themselves when thinking about using humour in speeches: (e.g. "I cannot tell jokes, I am not humorous."). In this workshop you can overcome this hurdle. You learn to take the first steps into a humorous speaking "career". Christian Block's practical workshop is about creating your own individual humour and including it in your speeches. You will get to know the basics and the structure of humour: how it works and what makes the audience laugh. Furthermore, you will explore and develop your own humour with easy exercises. You learn to embed humour into speeches to achieve maximal attention and impact on the audience.

And of course the workshop will be entertaining and very funny – you will laugh and learn.

Christian Block's 20-year professional career at Toyota's German headquarters has given him the opportunity to deliver presentations to fellow employees, dealers, business partners, and customers on a regular basis. Besides this, he has been a member of Toastmasters for more than 4 years. During this time he has delivered over one hundred speeches including presentations, educational sessions, workshops, special events, and has moderated contests and meetings. He served as the VP Education and president of the Rheinredner, a Toastmaster club in Cologne. In addition, he is a member of another club, the Kölner Sprechbar. Christian Block is a certified trainer and is planning to become a professional speaker in 2014.

14:45 ROOM 1 (RED ROOM)

Antonio Meza
Give voice to your hands

Have you ever wondered what to do with your hands when you are on stage? You can learn how to use your hands in a confident, eloquent and efficient way, respecting your culture and personality.

Give voice to your hands. Use them to support your message, the stories that you tell, and the emotions that you want to convey.

- Discover the natural voice of your hands and how to enhance it depending on your goals
- Understand how to use signs, signals and metaphors to support your words
- Integrate principles from theater, martial arts, neuroscience and animated cartoons!

An independent consultant, trainer, and coach, Antonio Meza is the founder of Akrobatas, a provider of creative empowerment tools. He is committed to the creation of "common ground" across cultures. His clients include OXFAM, the Open Society Foundation (OSF), and the European Public Health Alliance (EPHA). Antonio is a Trainer of Neuro-Linguistic Programming (NLP). He has degrees in Communication Sciences, a Masters in Film Studies, Scriptwriting, and Documentary Film. He is also an accomplished cartoon artist. In April 2013 Antonio achieved third place in the District 59 International Speech Contest. Ed Tate, 2000 Toastmasters world champion, said about Antonio's performance: "Antonio does something I've never seen before, your hands actually help to tell the story".

István Csúsz
Prezi makes your brain work

People remember experiences, not slides. Engage your audience with a dynamic, multi-dimensional story they won't forget - using Prezi, the revolutionary new way to create presentations.

"I am not a creative person" – this is one of my favourite quotes, which I hear very often. With Prezi, this simply cannot happen. I would like to give you an insight into presentations created with Prezi, demonstrate how it can vitalise your brain while you build a presentation, and show you how to arouse the audience's attention.

You will also get an introduction to the importance of meaningful structures, visual metaphors and zooming.

I am an architect student, amateur photographer, and presentation lover - passionate about any and all aspects of visual expression. I first got involved in designing presentations, then teaching in the Department of Technical Education at the Budapest University of Technology. Shortly thereafter we founded the Prezi Magyarul design and training company. After gathering the necessary knowledge, I started working at the Learn & Support Team at Prezi. Currently I am primarily interested in finding the most efficient ways of teaching Prezi design. I am just getting to know Toastmasters to expand my knowledge of the rhetorical part of presentations.

14:45 ROOM 3 (GREEN ROOM)

Elisabeth Dancet
Boost your impact drawing upon emotional intelligence

This workshop will help you develop your ability to use the power of emotion - including stress - to enhance the impact of your speeches.

You will learn how to:

- be more conscious of your emotional states before and throughout your speech delivery
- draw upon your emotional intelligence to reinforce your message and connect with your audience.

In this workshop I will give you an overview of what you need to know about emotional intelligence and show you how to apply it when communicating with an audience. We will experiment through a set of exercises designed to help you become more conscious of your emotional states and teach you how to use the power of emotion. We'll learn how you can reduce your level of stress before you deliver a speech. We'll design a personal mantra to help you change some of the limiting beliefs you hold about your ability for growth. Finally we will work on your relationship to the audience.

A French national, Elisabeth Dancet is a Management Consultant and Change Management Facilitator. Elisabeth focuses on developing leadership skills and accessing resources and high potential talents when faced with change situations. She uses a variety of tools and methods to help leaders and teams reach their objectives. An active Toastmaster, Elisabeth is a member and VPPR of SpeechMasters, an English-speaking club in Paris, France. Find out more at www.drh-tv.com

Kees Broos
The evaluation circus

There are many diverse acts in a circus. They entertain, give you goose bumps and create a 'wow' factor. Would you like to deliver an evaluation creating the same response in your audience? This workshop will focus on how to create such a response in your audience. Rome was not built in one day, and neither will the creation of your 'wow' evaluation, but it burnt down in one day, which could be the same with your evaluation, when not applying the right attitude and tools. I am looking forward to our sharing and learning together, creating "the evaluation circus".

Cornelis Broos, or rather 'Kees' classifies himself as a 'world citizen', having lived nearly 30 years in the Netherlands and 25 years in New Zealand. In 2007 he touched down in Frankfurt am Main (Germany), travelling for one year non-stop around the world in 2005-2006. A jack of all trades from teaching Physics and Mathematics to designing and building houses, topped with a Master of Management (MMgt) in dispute resolution in 2004, he is now focusing on coaching communication and leadership skills with a very special interest in helping others to improve their public speaking skills, using predominantly material as provided by Toastmasters International. He was a finalist in the Toastmasters International District 59 International Speech Contest in 2008 in Prague. Currently he holds the position of LGET D59.

Julia von Oertzen
& Alexander Lang
Jede Menge Redefutter

In unserem Workshop möchten wir Euch das neue Rhetorikblog www.redefutter.de nicht nur vorstellen, sondern auch zeigen, was Ihr damit machen könnt. Redefutter ist für Autoren gedacht, die eine Plattform suchen, findet Julia. Alexander meint, Redefutter ist für Menschen gedacht, die eine Rede halten wollen und dazu eine Anleitung auf deutsch suchen. Welche der beiden Aussage stimmt, wisst Ihr spätestens nach diesem Workshop. Kommt und seht selbst!

Dr. Julia von Oertzen ist Toastmaster seit 2004. Die Förderung junger Redner und Clubs liegt ihr besonders am Herzen. 2007 gründete sie den Karlsruher Redeclub. In diesem Jahr ist sie Area F5 Govenor. Sie ist der Überzeugung, dass es sich lohnt, die Toastmasters-Idee über die Organisation hinaus zu verbreiten, z.B. hat sie ein firmeninternes Speechcraft-Seminar bei der EnBW organisiert und startet jetzt in ihrem HPLP-Projekt ein deutschsprachiges Rhetorik-Blog – ein Nachschlagewerk für Redebegeisterte. Alexander Lang ist begeisterter Redner und war Präsident des Karlsruher Redeclubs. Er bringt viel ein aus seiner täglichen Arbeit als systemischer Coach und Trainer, nimmt aber mindestens genausoviel auch wieder mit ins Berufsleben zurück. Als Redner war er in verschiedenen Disziplinen auf Division- und District-Ebene erfolgreich. Im Jahr 2012 erreichte er den 2. Platz im Wettbewerb Humorvolle Rede auf der District-59-Konferenz in Bonn sowie den 1. Platz im Redewettbewerb auf der District-59-Konferenz in Poznań.

Barbara Hoerger-Margaret Jankowsky
The HPL Project:
“Knowledge is a treasure
but practice is the key to it.” (Thomas Fuller)

What qualifies as a “project”? How do I find a team?
How do I lead them? How do I deal with difficulties?
Who should be on my guidance committee?
How can it help me to develop, both as a Toastmaster and as a person?
How can it help me career wise?
These are some of the issues we will be addressing during this interactive workshop. Our objective is to increase awareness of HPL as a leadership learning tool. After our workshop you will recognize that the steps to completing the project and the learning effect are more important than the outcome.
Come prepared to ask questions and participate in the discussion.

Barbara is an American residing in Nuremberg, Germany. She has been a Toastmaster for 10 years as an active member in a German, English and a bilingual advanced club. She is currently working on her second High Performance Leadership Project and DTM. Among her many officer positions, Barbara has been Area and Division Governor, and also had the honor to serve as District 59 Governor 2011-2012.

Margaret has been a Toastmaster for over 11 years. She is a founding member of two English speaking clubs in Nuremberg, the German speaking club and the advanced club chartered this year. Margaret is currently in the middle of her second DTM. She moved to Germany 27 years ago and since then has been working as a trainer and coach in the fields of intercultural communication and change management.

Perfect Your Pitch

Attendees will learn when they are pitching, how they pitch, the good and bad and ins and outs of what I consider a proper pitch. The Perfect Your Pitch seminar will provide details on how to make your pitch clearer, more persuasive and effective. It will blow away the myth that a pitch is only something those in the fields of IT and Biotech do when seeking funding. In leaving, attendees will understand that we all pitch and will have a totally new appreciation for what pitching really means.

I have been presenting in front of audiences and pitching in all forms for more than 20 years for companies such as Verizon, American Express, and now my own. In this capacity I have presented to groups ranging from just a few to more than 1,000 and have spoken to all levels of organizations up to the executive suite and CEO's of some of the largest companies in the world. I am the current Division G Governor, covering Scandinavia's 26 clubs and 600 members, and was recently named Toastmaster of the Year. As President, I led my club to a 10/10 President's Distinguished, was President's Distinguished Area Governor, HPL for chairing the Division G Spring Conference, CC and CL. I have been a Toastmaster since September 2011. My marketing, communications and sales consulting firm is called Perfect Your Pitch. My clients include Nordic Business Forum, the premier business and networking seminar in the Nordics.

Storytelling - a powerful way to communicate your message

This workshop will provide you tricks and hints on how storytelling can support you to communicate your message in a clear, convincing manner. The primary focus will be on using storytelling in business situations like project workshops, client presentations, or company meetings. Among others, we will deal with questions like: What do you need to consider if you use storytelling in a professional context where people have neither time nor patience to absorb plenty of details? How do you ensure that people can relate your story to their own situations? How should you set up your story in order to catch attention, to convince, or to spark action? I am happy to see you on Sunday morning!

Born and raised in Hungary, I have spent over the last decade living and working in Western Europe. The current workshop is largely based on experiences I have gained during this time. In my profession as a management consultant and trainer I have worked with folks from five continents. The topics, the situations, and my counterparts have been diverse, but there has been one thing in common: people liked good stories – both in private and in business contexts. Therefore I have often been inspired to find a suitable one and to tell it in a way that supports my message. For choosing and sharing my stories it has been crucial to get to know my counterparts – which occurred through listening to their stories...

SO, WHERE THE HECK AM I?

The Saturday evening Gala dinner will take place in the Castle District at the Hilton Budapest Hotel (Hess András ter 1-3, Budapest, H-1014, +36-1-889-6600). Do not confuse this hotel with the Hilton Westend! Guests should use the side entrance (from the direction of the Matthias church), disabled people can use the main entrance. Parking is possible at the Hilton if needed: 525 HUF/car/hour on the street and 900 HUF/car/hour in the garage. When driving into the Castle District area press the "Hilton" button at the gate, and have your ticket validated at the reception desk when you leave.
